DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kaneshige (US 4,912,509).

Kaneshige discloses an image forming apparatus including an image forming apparatus main body (1); image forming unit (8) is a process frame body including at least a photoconductive body (1), image forming means as the light from transmitter (4) for forming an electrostatic latent image on a surface of the photoconductive body (2), and a frame main body. Development device (5) must include at least development means for developing the electrostatic latent image using toner, toner supply means for feeding toner to the development means, and a development device main body for holding the development means and the toner supply means.

A mechanism is provided which permits the image forming unit and developing unit to be mounted on or dismounted from the image forming apparatus in the proper order (abstract, lines 3-8), which reads on the process frame body (8) and the development device (5) being attachable to and detachable from the image forming apparatus main body (1) in a predetermined Application/Control Number: 10/669,315 order, the process frame body (8) and the development device (5) each having attachment/detachment order controlling means for preventing the process frame body (8) and the development device (5) from being attached and detached in an order different from the predetermined order.

For example, process frame body (8) has guide (8b) and positioning hole (8a) as part of the attachment/detachment order controlling means, and developing device (5) has positioning boss (54) as part of the attachment/detachment order controlling means.

Regarding claims 3-5, the attachment/detachment order controlling means (8a, 54, 8b, 1c) is built as an engagement portion, for example positioning hole (8a) on the process frame body (8) as a concavity which is brought into engagement state in association with attachment operation of the component to be attached subsequently, the engagement portion, for example positioning boss (54) of the developing device (5) as a convexity, and is brought into disengagement state in association with detachment operation of the component to be detached first. The positioning boss (54) and hole (8a) are created by forming part of each of the process frame body and the development device into a certain shape.

Regarding claim 6, first the process frame body (8) is attached and then the development device (5) is attached, and the attachment/detachment order controlling means of the process frame body is formed of a guide portion for guiding the attachment of the development device, whereas the attachment/detachment order controlling means of the development device (5) is formed of a to-be-guided portion which is guided by the guide portion. See col. 4, lines 1-21.

Regarding claim 9, the development device further comprises pressure-contact means, as shown in figure 2b, for contacting under pressure, when the process frame body (8) and the development device (5) are attached.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11-13 are allowed.

Claims 7, 8 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 11-13 are considered patentable because of the inclusion of the claim limitations, a first portion on a second functional unit to cover the release mechanism of a first functional unit having image forming capability to prevent the first functional unit from being installed in the opening after the second functional unit, that are not taught by the prior art.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 2 June 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant submit that the attachment/detachment control in Kaneshige is performed only by sliding block 15, which is not part of each functional unit. However, the attachment/detachment control in Kaneshige is also performed by positioning hole (8a), guide (8b), and positioning boss (54). Positioning hole (8a) and guide (8b) are part of the image forming unit. Positioning boss (54) is part of the developing unit.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
